

Bodies of 3 children found in UP river

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Varanasi: Bodies of three children, aged six, four and two, tied in two bedsheets, were found floating in Beso river near Sogar village under Khetasari area of Uttar Pradesh's Jaunpur district Sunday.

Hours were spent deciding the area of police jurisdiction, whether the three bodies were found in Jaunpur or Azamgarh as the bodies were stuck between the pillars of Songar Bhado bridge located on the border of both the districts.

Later, the land revenue department's staff were called to clarify the boundary.

The three children reportedly belonged to two families in neighbouring Azamgarh and had died of dengue on Sept 27. After performing their last rites, both the families left the bodies of the kids in the river.

Khetasari police station in-charge, Rama Asre Rai, Monday said that upon noticing the bodies of the three children, some passersby alerted police, who retrieved the bodies, after which a probe was initiated.

Police found no signs of injury on the bodies of the three children found in the Beso river in Jaunpur district.

Threads were tied around the feet of the deceased children. Later, the police sent both the bodies for postmortem.

Meerut: A man accused of murdering his first wife, father and mother to claim insurance worth Rs 50 crore has been arrested in Hapur, Uttar Pradesh, after his fourth wife alerted police about a series of suspicious deaths in the family. Vishal Singhal, 37, had already received Rs 1.5 crore in claims and was attempting to file more when police detained him along with his alleged accomplice. Singhal has told police that his second and third wives left him, but the claims are under verification.

Singhal, a resident of Gangaur in Meerut, had convinced his fourth wife, Shreya, to sign multiple high-value life insurance policies. Her suspicions grew as she noticed patterns similar to those in reports she had read about an ongoing insurance scam being probed in Sambhal.

When her concerns were dismissed by the local police in Meerut, she reached out to the Sambhal police, who were already investigating fraud cases involving staged deaths across 11 states.

"I noticed Vishal kept pushing me to sign policies, and there were so many past deaths in his family," Shreya said. "His father had even asked me for help, saying he feared for his life. After he died, I fled to my parents' home."

Sambhal superintendent of police (SP) Krishna Kant Bishnoi told

TIMELINE OF SUSPICIOUS DEATHS IN FAMILY

2017 | Mother | Prabha Devi killed in road accident near Pilkhuwa. Vishal escaped with minor injuries, claimed ₹25 lakh

2022 | Wife | First wife Ekta died during treatment at Meerut hospital. Vishal claimed ₹80 lakh

2024 | Father | Mukesh Chand died in alleged accident in Hapur. Case closed as 'untraced vehicle'. Probe found 64 policies worth ₹50 crore in his name. He received ₹50 lakh

The case matched the methods used in the wider scam we were already pursuing. Based on surveillance, bank records and circumstantial evidence, it was concluded that Singhal had staged multiple accidents to claim insurance payouts. He has already claimed ₹1.5 crore. The pattern was consistent

—SAMBHAL SP KRISHNA KANT BISHNOI

TOI that the case matched the methods used in the wider scam they were already pursuing. Based on surveillance, bank records and circumstantial evidence, police concluded that Singhal had staged multiple accidents to claim insurance payouts.

"He has already claimed Rs 1.5 crore," Bishnoi said. "The pattern was consistent."

According to investigators, Singhal would take out dozens of life insurance policies in the name of each target, stage a road accident, have the victim admitted to a specific private hospital in Meerut, and then claim the payout. Both his wife and his father died at the same hospital, raising suspicions of medical collusion. Police said they are looking in to the hospital's role in the matter.

Singhal's father, Mukesh, had 64 active policies worth Rs 50 crore in his name when he died. A minor accident report was registered in Hapur in March 2024, stating that he had been injured in a crash while returning from Garhmukteshwar.

The insurance claim documents stated that the accident happened around 3pm on March 27, 2023. However, records from Navjevan Hospital, where he was admitted, show he arrived around 8pm. This and other inconsistencies raised doubts among insurance company investigators.

An FIR was filed on Sept 24 by Sanjay Kumar, a representative of one of the insurers. "The description of injuries given by the son and the hospital did not match the post-mortem findings," he said. "The documents submitted by Vishal contained discrepancies in age and ID details. He also failed to present the vehicle involved or its registration papers."

Hapur SP Kunwar Gyanender Singh, clarified why the FIR initially listed only cheating and forgery charges. "In the accused's father's case, a final report had already been filed and the case was closed," he said. "Now we have received the court's permission to reopen the case. After a thorough investigation, BNS sections pertaining to murder and attempt to murder will be added."

Investigators said that they are also examining Singhal's finances. Sambhal additional SP Anuriti Sharma, who is leading the probe into the broader multi-state scam, said the family's declared income did not support the annual premium payments, which amounted to nearly Rs 30 lakh. "Just two months before his father's death, loans on a Toyota Legend, Nissan Magnite, Brezza and a Royal Enfield 350 — all in his name — were procured which got cleared after his death," she said.

3 years after croc attack, 50yo farmer awaits compensation

Keshav Agarwal | TNN

Pilibhit: Three years after a crocodile almost severed his right arm while he was collecting fodder in his field, 50-year-old farmer Ramratan of Lalpur Dhakha village in Kheri district is still waiting for compensation. Ramratan was attacked on June 26, 2022, near Palia forest range of North Kheri division. Villagers took him to a community centre before he was referred to King George's Medical College in Lucknow, where doctors performed surgery to rejoin his severed arm. However, the surgery did not help much and his arm was permanently crippled.

Unable to work, he borrowed heavily from relatives and moneylenders for treatment. "I kept knocking on the doors of forest officials for compensation, but all efforts went in vain. With my disabled arm, I cannot do any labour or farming," he told TOI. On Sept 25, Ramratan sent registered letters to UP chief minister, field director of Dudhwa Tiger Reserve, Kheri DM and divisional forest officer, urging to release compensation. Naveen Khandelwal, North Kheri forest divisional forest officer said the case would be taken up "sympathetically" and steps will be taken to ensure approval and payment of compensation.
