

BJP slammed for bid to influence KL voters

Cong, CPM workers lay siege to the building where the kits were kept for distribution at Vadanappally in Thrissur

T G NAIDU @Hyderabad

CHIEF Justice of the Supreme Court Surya Kant on Sunday expressed confidence that the upcoming Telangana High Court complex would rank among the most impressive judicial campuses in the country.

He made the remarks after reviewing design plans and scale models while laying the foundation stone for Zone II of the High Court project at Rajendranagar.

The event was attended by Chief Minister A Revanth Reddy, Supreme Court judges PS Narasimha, Ujjal Bhuyan, SV Bharti, and Alok Aradhe, along with Telangana High Court Chief Justice Aparesh Kumar Singh and several other judges.

Justice Surya Kant emphasised that judicial independence was not limited to constitutional doctrine but was also closely linked to the availability of robust infrastructure. He described the project as a long-term institutional investment designed to serve the judiciary for the next hundred years.

The new campus, spread over 100 acres, is intended to replace the current dispersed and congested court facilities with a unified, modern complex.

Reflecting on its origin, he noted that the initiative traced back to the 2009 fire incident at the existing High Court premises. He observed that the project represented nearly two decades of consistent effort, supported by successive governments despite political transitions — an example of rare coordination between the judiciary and executive.

He further said that construction of Zone I, which includes the principal High Court Bhavan, is progressing rapidly, with excavation completed and structural works underway.

The simultaneous launch of Zone II, housing official residences for the Chief Justice and High Court judges, underscores the urgency to meet contemporary judicial needs.

Justice Surya Kant pointed out similar developments in judicial infrastructure across states such as Uttar Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Andhra Pradesh, and Assam, indicating that governments nationwide were increasingly prioritising the strengthening of court systems.

He appreciated the Telangana government for sanctioning ₹2,500 crore for the project and assured continued financial backing.

Revanth Reddy stated that the state government aimed to complete the entire project by December 2027. He underscored that the legislature, executive, and judiciary operate within a framework of autonomy and mutual respect, which is essential for a healthy democracy.

The chief minister affirmed that his government not only respects court judgments but also values judicial observations and feedback.

TN ASSEMBLY ELECTIONS

DMK won't interfere in Cong issue, say sources

“HOWEVER, in a last minute move, Viswanathan, who was elected from the Kancheepuram parliamentary constituency (SC) in 2009, approached the party leadership seeking a ticket to contest from Melur.

The party high command allocated him the seat after looking at his performance during his tenure as MP,” one party source said.

Kharge is said to have considered Viswanathan for the seat, as prominent Congress leader and former home minister P Kakkani had been elected to the erstwhile Madras State Assembly from Melur (SC) in 1957.

The delay in the announcement was a cause of concern for alliance leader DMK, as the party's deputy general secretary and Thoothukudi MP Kanimozhi had completed her campaign in Madurai, and DMK president and Chief Minister M K Stalin was campaigning in Madurai on Sunday.

However, sources close to the DMK leadership said, the party did not want to interfere in the Congress's internal issues.

Viswanathan has held the position of AICC secretary from 2009 to 2014, with responsibilities including oversight of Telangana and other states. As an MP, he maintained a Parliamentary attendance of about 87%, participated in about 38 debates and raised 658 questions between 2009 and 2014.
