Coimbatore bizmen, guilds welcome budget

ARAVIND RAJ @ Coimbatore

THE industrialists from Coimbatore district have welcomed the announcements made for the industrial sector by Finance Minister Palanivel Thiaga Rajan during his budget presentation on Monday.

The minister has announced Tamil Nadu

Tech City (TNTech city) in three places, which include Coimbatore. Hosur and Chennai to promote Tamil Nadu as a global hub for Information Technology and to meet the increasing demand for quality office space. Besides, new industrial parks will be developed in Virudhunagar, Vellore, Kallakurichi, and Coimbatore at an estimated cost of ₹410 crore for providing employment opportunities to nearly 22,000 persons. An allocation of ₹3,268 crore thenewindianexpress.com)

Speaking to TNIE, CODIS-SIA (Coimbatore District Small Industries Association) president V Thiurgnanam welcomed the budget and said that the announcements will generate more

Farmers submit views on LBP reconstruction

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Erode

FARMERS from Erode submitted their views to the Water Resources Department (WRD) officials regarding the LBP canal reconstruction project on Monday.

As per the officials, the Lower Bhavani Project (LBP) canal runs for a distance of about 200 km through Erode, Tiruppur and Karur districts and 2.07 lakh acres farmlands are irrigated through this canal. In this situation, with the intention of modernizing this canal, the state government had proposed the LBP canal reconstruction project in the year 2020. exporters expressed their disappointment as no schemes were announced for the garment industry in the budget.

Speaking to TNIE, Tiruppur Exporters and Manufacturer Association (TEAMA) president M P Muthurathinam said, "Tiruppur's garment sector has turnover of ₹60,000 crore, including both domestic and export units. Most of units in garment industry come under MSME sector, so we expected positive schemes from budget. But, no such announcements were made. Besides, we sought creation of Tamil Nadu Cotton Procurement Corporation to stabilise the price of cotton yarn, but no announcements were made." The South Indian Hosiery Manufacturers Association president AC Eswaran said, "We are upset about the lack of any specific development schemes for the garment industry."

and Tiny Industries Association (HOSTIA) welcomed the announcement for MSMEs in the state budget on Monday. HOSTIA president K Velmurugan told reporters, "This budget is an inclusive budget for all sectors and the state government has allocated ₹1,509 crore for Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises department and allocated ₹3,268 crore for industries department. The setting of a state-of-the-art skill development centre at Shoolagiri SIPCOT industrial park at the cost of ₹80 crore will help industries to get skilled workers."
