Senate OKs aid, Ukraine to get US weapons in hours

President Biden signs legislation that earmarks $61 billion of the $95 billion war assistance for Kyiv; Israel, Taiwan too part of the basket

WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT Joe Biden signed into law on Wednesday a $95 billion war aid measure that includes aid for Ukraine, Israel and Taiwan.

The announcement marks an end to long, painful battle with Republicans in Congress over urgently needed assistance for Ukraine.

"We rose to the moment. We came together and we got it done," Biden said at White House event to announce the signing. "Now we need to move fast, and we are." But significant damage has been done to the Biden administration's effort to help Ukraine repel Russia's brutal invasion during the funding impasse that dates back to August, when the Democratic president made his first emergency spending request for Ukraine aid. Even with a burst of new weapons and ammunition, it is unlikely Ukraine will immediately recover after months of setbacks.

Biden said the transfer of an initial aid package of military assistance will begin in a matter of hours the first tranche from about $61 billion allocated for Ukraine, according to US officials.

It is expected to include air defence capabilities, artillery rounds, armoured vehicles and other weapons to shore up

Ukrainian forces who have seen morale sink as Russian President Vladimir Putin has racked up win after win.

But longer term, it remains uncertain if Ukraine after months of losses in Eastern Ukraine and sustaining massive damage to its infrastructure can make enough progress to sustain American political support before burning through the latest influx of money.

"It's not going in the Ukrainians' favour in the Donbas, certainly not elsewhere in the country," said White House national security spokesman John Kirby, referring to the eastern industrial heartland where Ukraine has suffered setbacks. "Mr. Putin thinks he can play for time. So we've got to try to make up some of that time." Russia now appears focused on Harkiv, Ukraine's second largest city. Russian forces have exploited air defence shortages in the city, pummeling the region's energy infrastructure, and looking to shape conditions for a potential summer offensive to seize the city.

House Speaker Mike Johnson delayed a vote on the supplemental aid package for months as members of his party's far right wing threatened to move to oust him if he allowed a vote to send more assistance to Ukraine. AP

Bribery: Russian deputy defence minister held

MOSCOW

A top Russian military official arrested on suspicion of accepting a bribe was sent to pre-trial detention on Wednesday after appearing before a court in central Moscow, court officials said in a statement.

Timur Ivanov, 48, one of Russia's 12 deputy defence ministers, was arrested Tuesday evening, Russia's Investigative Committee said in a statement. It gave no further information, apart from specifying that Ivanov is suspected of taking an especially large bribe a criminal offense punishable by up to 15 years in prison.

Investigators told Moscow's Basmani court that Ivanov had conspired with third parties to receive a bribe in the form of unspecified property services 'during contracting and subcontracting work for the needs of the Ministry of Defence'. An acquaintance of Ivanov's, identified as Sergei Borodin, was also arrested and ordered into pre-trial detention on the same charges, court officials said in a separate statement. AP

US passes bill, ByteDance gets a year to sell TikTok

WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT Joe Biden on Wednesday signed a bill into law that would force TikTok's China-based parent company to sell the social media platform under the threat of a ban, a contentious move by US lawmakers that's expected to face legal challenges and disrupt the lives of content creators who rely on the short-form video app for income.

The TikTok legislation was included as part of a larger $95 billion package that provides foreign aid to Ukraine and Israel and was passed in the Senate 79-18. A decision made by House Republicans last week to attach the TikTok bill to the high-priority package helped expedite its passage in Congress and came after negotiations with the Senate, where an earlier version of the bill had stalled.

The revised legislation extends the deadline, giving Bytedance nine months to sell TikTok, and a possible three-month extension if a sale is in progress. The bill would also bar the company from controlling TikTok's secret sauce: the algorithm that feeds users videos based on their interests and has made the platform a trend-setting phenomenon.

TikTok did not immediately return a request for comment Tuesday night.

The passage of the legislation is a culmination of long-held bipartisan fears in Washington over Chinese threats and the ownership of TikTok, which is used by 170 million Americans. AP
